How to change ProQuest's interface language

- Click the  icon ⇒ ‘日本語’ (Japanese)
- Select the language of your choice.

The screenshot shows the ProQuest website interface. At the top right, there is a user profile icon (a person silhouette) which is highlighted with a red box. A dropdown menu is open from this icon, showing a list of languages. The '日本語' (Japanese) option is highlighted with a red box, and a red arrow points from it to the 'English' option in the dropdown menu. The dropdown menu is titled '言語を選択' (Select Language) and lists various languages including العربية, Bahasa Indonesia, Čeština, Deutsch, English, Español, Français, 한국어, Italiano, Magyar, Norsk, Polski, Português (Brasil), Português (Portugal), Русский, ไทย, Türkçe, 中文(简体), and 中文(繁體). The main content area of the website is in Japanese, displaying '275個のデータベースを検索しています' (Searching 275 databases) and a search bar with the placeholder text '検索語を入力...' (Enter search term...). Below the search bar, there are buttons for 'すべて' (All), '学術誌' (Academic Journals), '書籍' (Books), 'ビデオおよびオーディオ' (Video and Audio), '学位論文' (Theses), and '詳細' (Details). At the bottom, there are four tiles with icons and text providing help and guidance.

Highlights

- Although quarterly growth slowed to 0.1% in Q1, this followed two very strong quarters and still meant that the economy was 2.8% up on a year earlier, the fastest in the EU. Household consumption was the main driver of economic growth, up 6.6% year-on-year, comfortably its strongest rate since before the global financial crisis. And while Q2 may see some setback for consumption after the sharp rise in Q1, we expect a robust underlying trend in the coming quarters. By contrast, both government consumption and investment contracted in Q1, but the latter should start to pick up soon in response to the marked improvement in both exports and consumer spending over the last year. With regard to the external sector, the likely boost to exports from the gradual Eurozone recovery is likely to be outweighed by faster domestic demand sucking in more imports. Overall, we have raised our 2014 GDP growth forecast to 3% from 2.8% last month.
- CPI inflation was just 0.9% in May, the lowest on record. In large part, the latest decline was driven by
- we do not believe that the central bank will lower the policy interest rate any further (it last cut in February). The central bank attributes recent currency strength to external factors and it believes inflation will pick up in the coming months.
- The IMF remains confident in Romania's ability to implement meaningful structural reform. However, policymakers still need to make a lot of progress if they are to achieve the IMF targets. While Romgaz was privatised last year, energy sector assets Hidroelectrica and Ottenia have yet to be sold off. In addition, despite likely opposition from the IMF, the government will probably implement a 5% cut in the payroll tax rate as it looks to spur growth. Overall, though, the government remains committed to its policy goals and we believe it will continue to work towards meeting its fiscal targets and reform objectives.
- Although we have upgraded Romania's economic prospects, there remain risks from a more severe Eurozone crisis, a setback to the modest Eurozone

Abstract

This article uses a literature review about postponement, decoupling point and cold chain to offer alternatives for Brazilian distribution of refrigerated chicken. It was possible to conclude that a decoupling point between first and further industrialization can be a viable option for selling and distributing refrigerated chicken that has from seven to maximum of thirty days of shelf life.

Reverse innovation is not always either foreseeable or explicitly pursued by Western companies operating in emerging markets. It arises from the initiative of the foreign subsidiary and results when products initially developed in the emerging market threaten the primary market of the parent company. This has been the case for a developed product exclusively for the Chinese market that, surprisingly, was eventually introduced in the market for which it was developed. The development of the product presented challenges with at both the subsidiary and the corporate levels.

What is 'Peer Review'?

"The process of obtaining impartial opinions from the research and academic community in order to ascertain whether papers submitted for publication in journals or at conferences are of a suitable standard.

The opinions are sought by publishers and conference organizers, and are requested from those whose expertise and stature are similar to the author's."

Prytherch, R. J. (2005). Harrod's librarians' glossary and reference book: A directory of over 10,200 terms, organizations, projects and acronyms in the areas of information management, library science, publishing and archive management (10th ed.). Aldershot: Ashgate.

539 Reaching out to children and young people about mental health in the Covid-19 pandemic

Cuellar, Bianca; Morgan, Emma.

Archives of Disease in Childhood; London Vol. 106, Iss. Suppl 1, (Oct 2021): A34-A34.

Result 1 of 1,719

Abstract (summary)

Background

Since the start of the Covid-19 pandemic the mental health of children and young people across the country has been affected. The ongoing uncertainty during the pandemic has made normality a thing of the past. The burden of this has created an escalation of worsening mental health diagnoses and created a new population with new mental health issues.

Children's mental health week is celebrated every year in the hospital. This year, given the pandemic restrictions, new ways of raising awareness of children's mental health was sought with using social media outlets.

Abstract

The coronavirus disease 2019 (COVID-19) pandemic has brought significant changes to the life of the Christian church in Indonesia. Such changes can degrade the essence of the fellowship and reality of the COVID-19 pandemic, which became the church's starting point, has triggered a pattern of carrying out its duties and services to the people and their environment. The church needs to reinvent and transform its ministry innovations as a living organisation. The church needs to reintroduce the effectiveness of its presence through adapting new service patterns, namely onsite services or hybrid services, to remain relevant to every dimension of rapid change in all aspects. This research study analyses the actualisation of church ecclesiology in the midst and after the pandemic. Using descriptive qualitative methods with interactive data analysis from Miles and Huberman, the following points have been found: (1) virtual ministry as a church reality, (2) a pneumatic ministry as a church reality, (3) a pneumatic ministry as a church reality, (4) a pneumatic ministry as a church reality.

2019年のコロナウイルス感染症（COVID-19）のパンデミックは、インドネシアのキリスト教教会の生活に大きな変化をもたらしました。そのような変化は、信者の交わりの本質を低下させる可能性があります。教会の出発点となったCOVID-19パンデミックの現実、人々とその環境に対する義務と奉仕の遂行パターンに変化をもたらしました。教会はそのミニストリーの革新を生きた組織として適応させ、変革することができます。教会は、新しいサービスパターン、すなわちオンサイトサービスを仮想サービスまたはハイブリッドサービスに適応させることによって、その存在の有効性を再解釈し、あらゆる側面における急速な変化のあらゆる側面に関連し続ける必要があります。この調査研究は、パンデミックの最中および後の教会教会学の実現を分析します。MilesとHubermanのインタラクティブなデータ分析を用いた記述的定性的手法を用いて、以下の点が見出された：（１）教会の現実としての仮想的なミニストリー、（２）空想的な出会いの精神性が教会を特徴づける、（３）普遍的な聖体拝領の文脈における教会論、（４）神聖な力を顕現する手段としての秘跡。

Machine Reading – a text-to-speech functionality

- Click the player button in the Full Text section for machine reading of the article.

The screenshot displays a journal article interface. At the top, the article title is "Pandemic ecclesiology: Church re-actualisation during the pandemic" by Pakpahan, Gernaida K.R.; Nugroho, Fibry J.; Benyamin, Priskila I.; Pantan, Frans; Wiryohadi, Wiryohadi. The journal is "Hervormde Teologiese Studies; Pretoria", Vol. 78, Iss. 4, (2022). DOI:10.4102/hts.v78i4.7201.

On the left, there is a sidebar with three options: "Full text" (selected), "Full text - PDF", and "Abstract/Details".

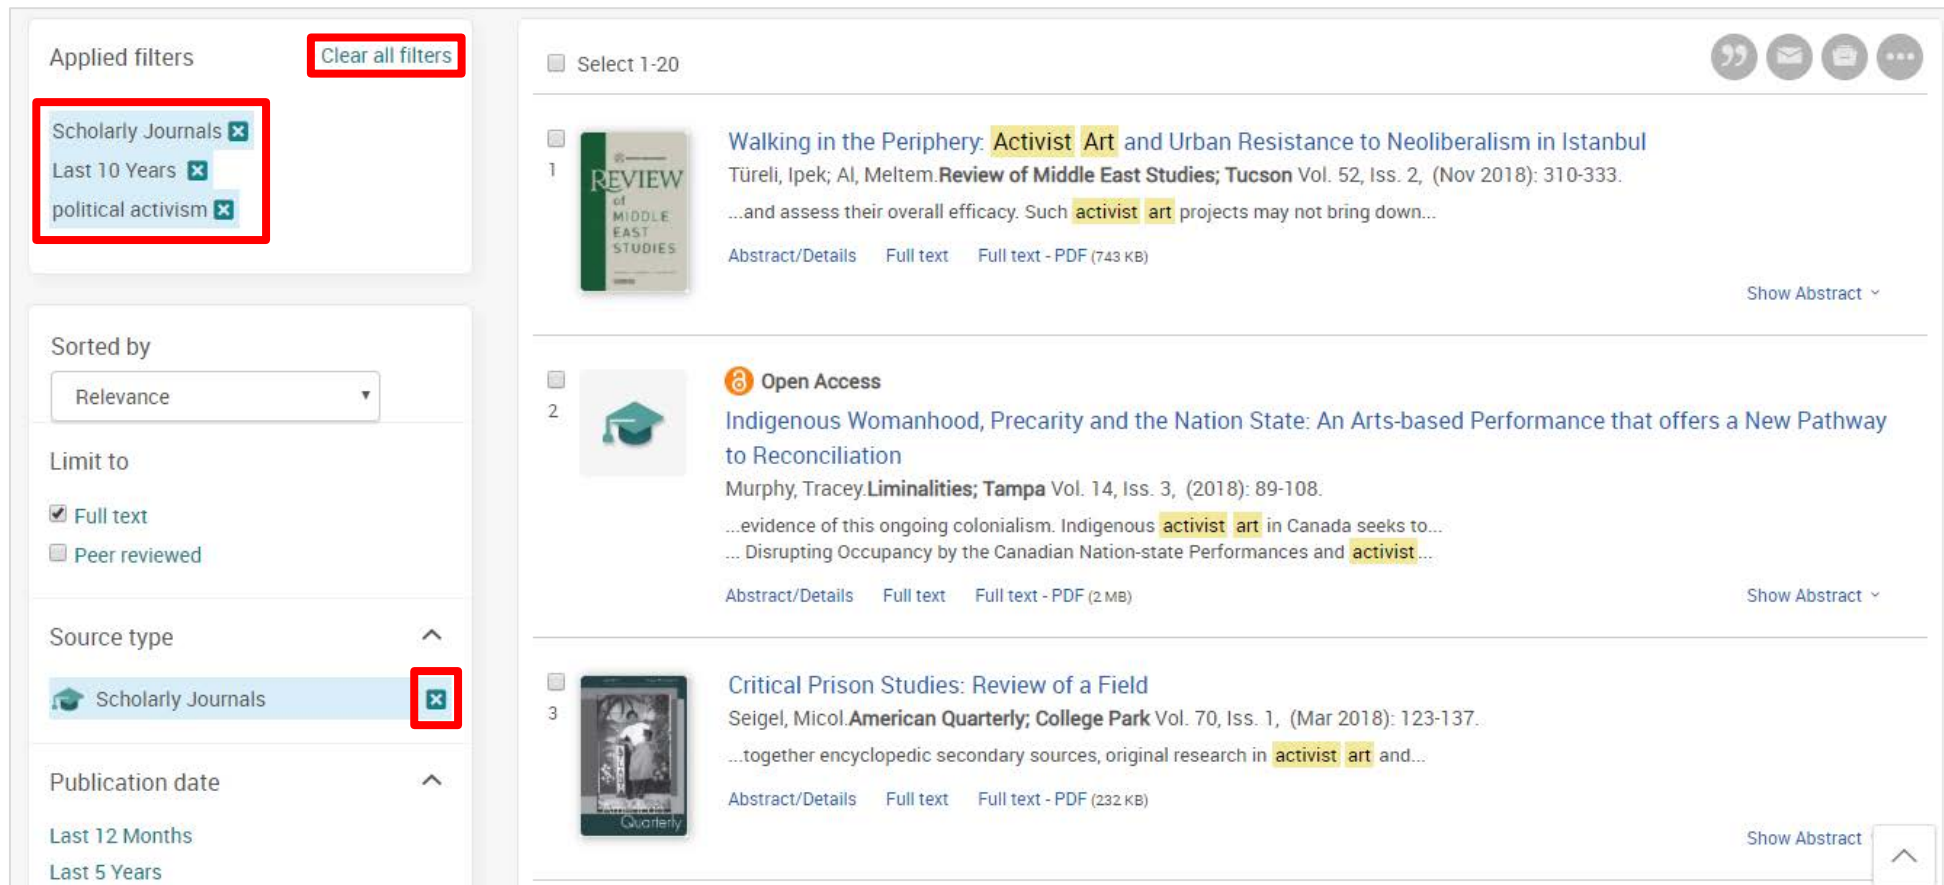

The main content area is titled "Full Text" and includes a "Translate" dropdown and a link to "Turn on search term navigation". Below this, a text-to-speech player is visible, featuring a play button, a progress bar showing "0:00 / 0:00", a volume icon, and a download icon. A red box highlights the play button, and a red arrow points to it from the text in the first bullet point.

The article text begins with the "Introduction" section, stating: "Since the coronavirus disease 2019 (COVID-19) pandemic, church services have changed drastically, which requires the church to adapt quickly to provide the best service. Restrictions on worship in church buildings during the pandemic and compliance with the application of health protocols are the obligations of each individual for the creation of joint health in the community. Empirical facts show that many churches are not ready to implement life in the new normal (Manguma 2021). The activities originally carried out onsite in the church building have now almost all shifted to a technology-based virtual world. It is undeniable that the availability of the latest technological devices and the skills to use them are also significant needs that must be met. Churches have appeared in almost every digital medium, including e-mail, websites, internet forums, videos and social networking sites (Hutchings 2013). Fellowships and congregation meetings are now commonly held online via Zoom, YouTube, Instagram, Facebook, Google Meet and other link-based platforms (Singarimbun 2021). Worship in the virtual world has become a church reality where there are

On the right side, there are several recommended articles and a search bar. The recommended articles include "TO BE OR NOT TO BE? A missional and practical theological perspective on being Church with..." by Beukes, Jacques W. in "Hervormde Teologiese Studies; Pretoria Vol. 76, Iss. 1, (2020).", "Social Life Networks" by Jain, Ramesh; Sonnen, David. in "IT Professional Magazine; Washington Vol. 13, Iss. 5, (Sep/Oct 2011): 8-11.", and a "View all" link. The search bar is labeled "Search with indexing terms" and has a dropdown menu for "Subject" with options like "Software" and "Internet".

Filters to narrow down search result

Narrowing Results ⑥ : Applied narrow-down filters can be cleared easily by clicking  = You can try to narrow down your results with various terms and access more relevant contents quickly.

The screenshot displays a search interface with a left sidebar for filters and a main area for search results.

Applied filters: A red box highlights the 'Applied filters' section, which includes 'Scholarly Journals', 'Last 10 Years', and 'political activism'. A 'Clear all filters' button is located at the top right of this section.

Sorted by: A dropdown menu shows 'Relevance' as the selected sorting option.

Limit to: Checkboxes for 'Full text' (checked) and 'Peer reviewed' are visible.

Source type: A dropdown menu shows 'Scholarly Journals' as the selected option, with a red box highlighting the clear filter icon (an 'x' in a blue square) next to it.

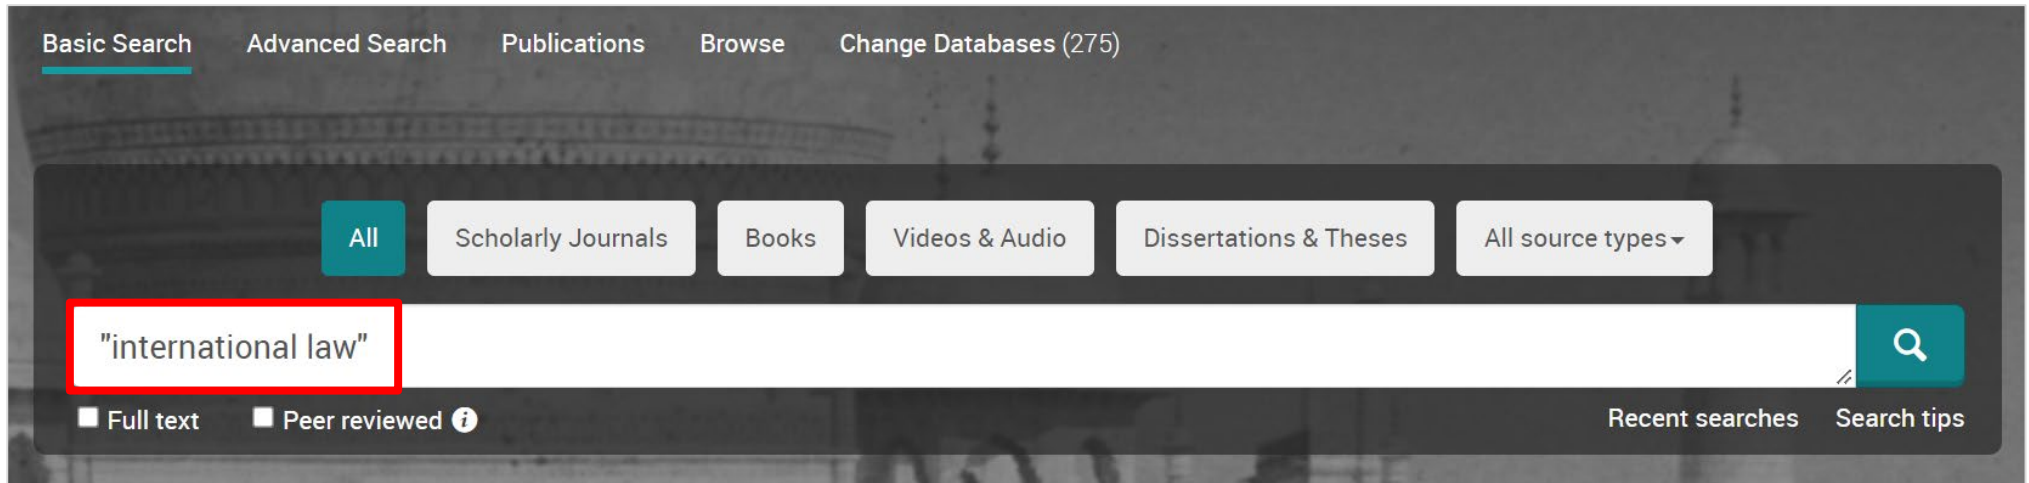

Publication date: Options for 'Last 12 Months' and 'Last 5 Years' are listed.

Search Results: The main area shows three results, each with a thumbnail, title, author, journal information, and abstract. The first result is 'Walking in the Periphery: Activist Art and Urban Resistance to Neoliberalism in Istanbul' by Türeli, Ipek; Al, Meltem, published in Review of Middle East Studies. The second result is 'Indigenous Womanhood, Precarity and the Nation State: An Arts-based Performance that offers a New Pathway to Reconciliation' by Murphy, Tracey, published in Liminalities; Tampa. The third result is 'Critical Prison Studies: Review of a Field' by Seigel, Micol, published in American Quarterly; College Park. Each result includes links for 'Abstract/Details', 'Full text', and 'Full text - PDF'.

Boolean Operator #1 – AND Search & Exact Phrase Search

Search Example 3 : Search with a keyword International Law.

- Let's see the difference between AND Search & Exact-phrase Search.
- AND Search : type international law into the search box.
- Exact-phrase Search : enclose the 2 words with double quotation marks “ ”, like “international law”

The screenshot shows the ProQuest search interface. At the top, there are navigation links: Basic Search (underlined), Advanced Search, Publications, Browse, and Change Databases (275). Below these is a search bar with a dropdown menu showing 'All' selected, and other options: Scholarly Journals, Books, Videos & Audio, Dissertations & Theses, and All source types. The search bar itself contains the text "international law" in quotation marks, which is highlighted with a red rectangle. To the right of the search bar is a magnifying glass icon. Below the search bar, there are checkboxes for 'Full text' and 'Peer reviewed' (with an information icon). At the bottom right, there are links for 'Recent searches' and 'Search tips'.

The 2 words International Law that are enclosed with “ ” are treated as though they are 1 word or a phrase.

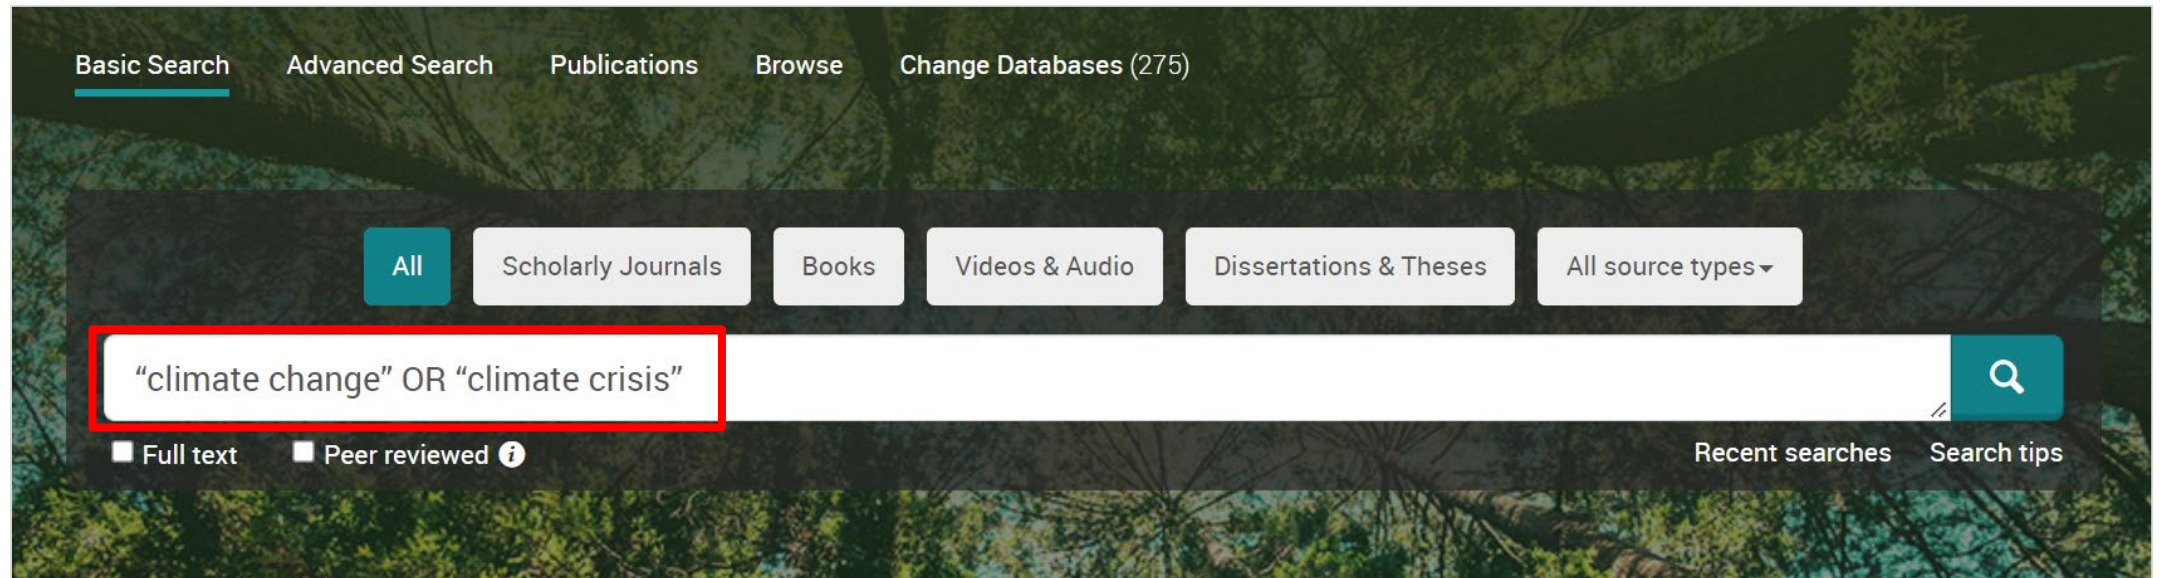

Examples of Exact-phrase SEARCH

- “discourse analysis”
- “gender equality”
- “internet of things”
- “gravitational wave”
- “to be, or not to be”

Boolean Operators #2 – OR Search

Search Example 4 : Search for documents that contain EITHER
Climate Change OR Climate Crisis

- OR Search : Connect two words with the operator ‘OR’ like
“climate change” OR “climate crisis”.

The screenshot displays the ProQuest search interface. At the top, navigation links include 'Basic Search' (underlined), 'Advanced Search', 'Publications', 'Browse', and 'Change Databases (275)'. Below these are filters for 'All', 'Scholarly Journals', 'Books', 'Videos & Audio', 'Dissertations & Theses', and 'All source types'. The search bar contains the query “climate change” OR “climate crisis”, which is highlighted with a red rectangle. To the right of the search bar is a magnifying glass icon. Below the search bar, there are checkboxes for 'Full text' and 'Peer reviewed' (with an information icon). On the far right, there are links for 'Recent searches' and 'Search tips'.

Boolean Operators #3 – NOT Search

Search Example 5 : Search for documents that contain the word ‘Clean Energy’, but do NOT include the word ‘Nuclear’

- NOT Search : Connect two words with the operator ‘NOT’ like “clean energy” NOT nuclear

The screenshot shows the ProQuest search interface. At the top, there are navigation links: Basic Search (underlined), Advanced Search, Publications, Browse, and Change Databases (275). Below these is a search bar with a dark background. Inside the search bar, there are several filter buttons: All (highlighted in teal), Scholarly Journals, Books, Videos & Audio, Dissertations & Theses, and All source types (with a dropdown arrow). The search query "clean energy" NOT nuclear is entered into the search bar and is highlighted with a red rectangle. To the right of the search bar is a teal search button with a magnifying glass icon. Below the search bar, there are checkboxes for "Full text" and "Peer reviewed" (with an information icon). On the right side of the search bar, there are links for "Recent searches" and "Search tips".

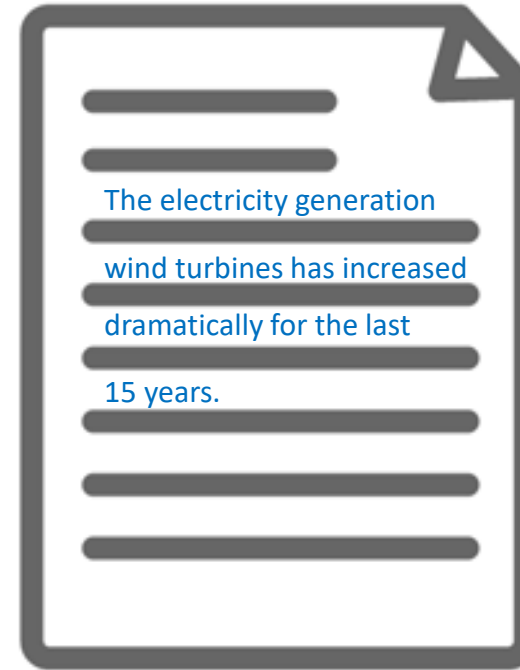

What is NOT SEARCH?

Search Scope of NOT SEARCH

Search the contents that have Word 'A', but exclude results that also contain Word 'B'.

Image of NOT SEARCH

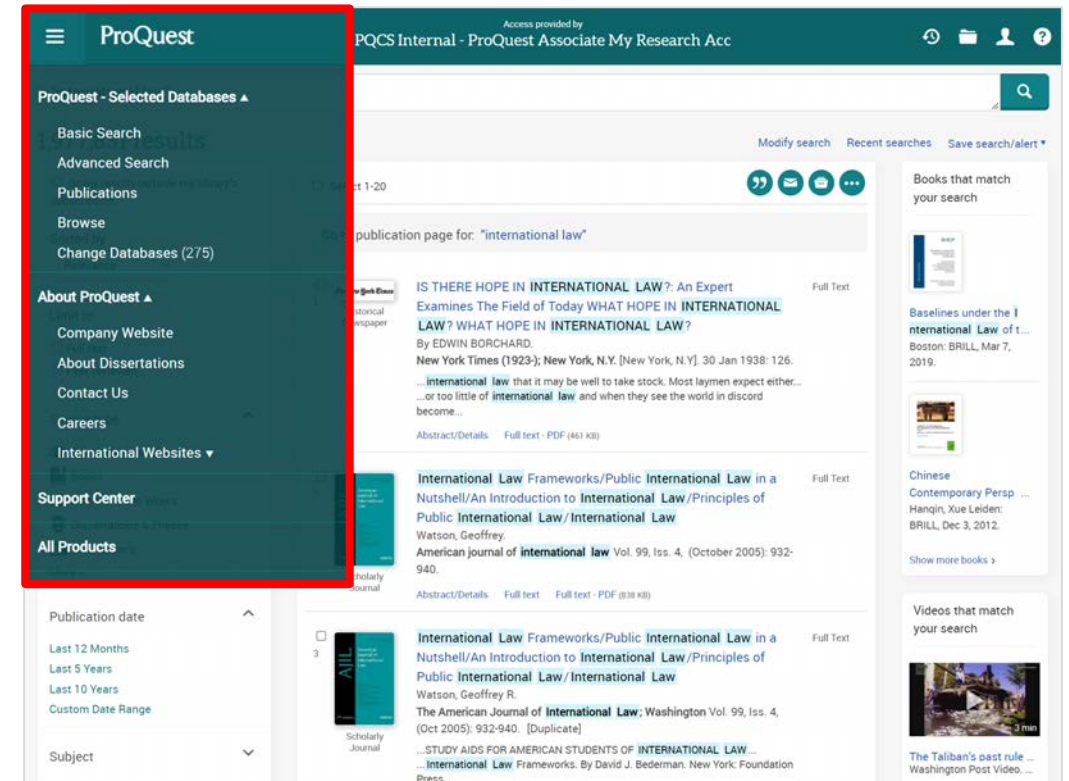

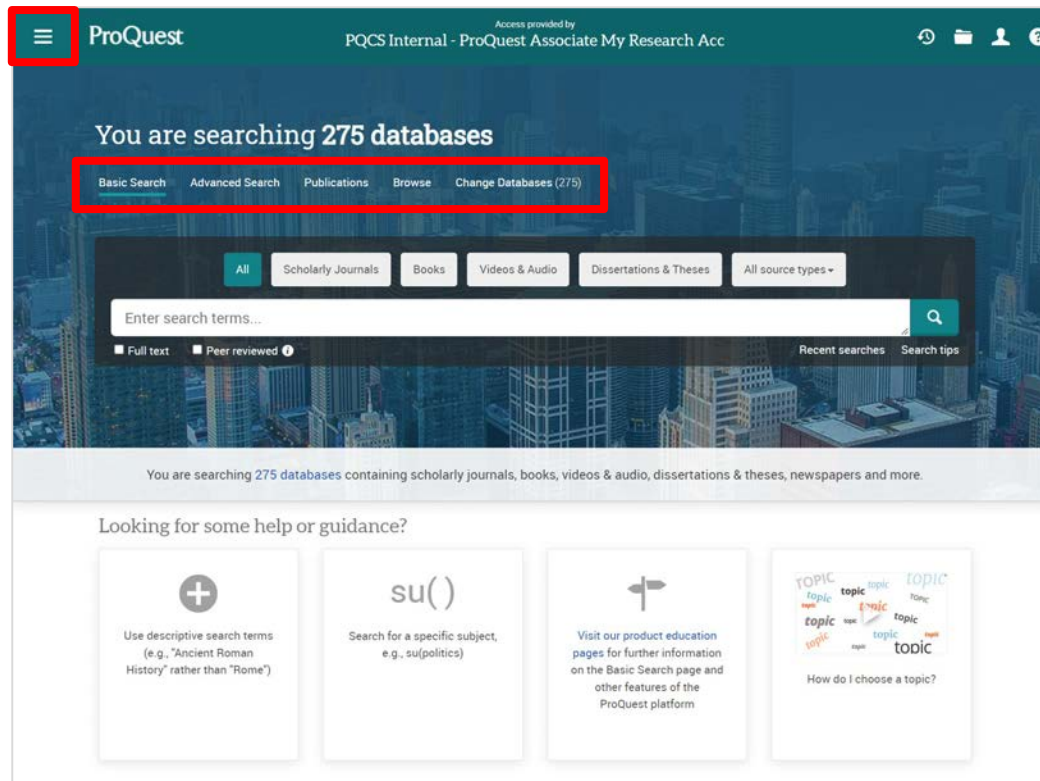

The content includes the word 'Clean Energy', but it does not have 'Nuclear' in the texts.

Menu Options on ProQuest Platform

Change the interface to Advanced Search, Publication Search, etc

- Click the links above the search box on the Basic Search page OR click  in the top left corner to open the menu.

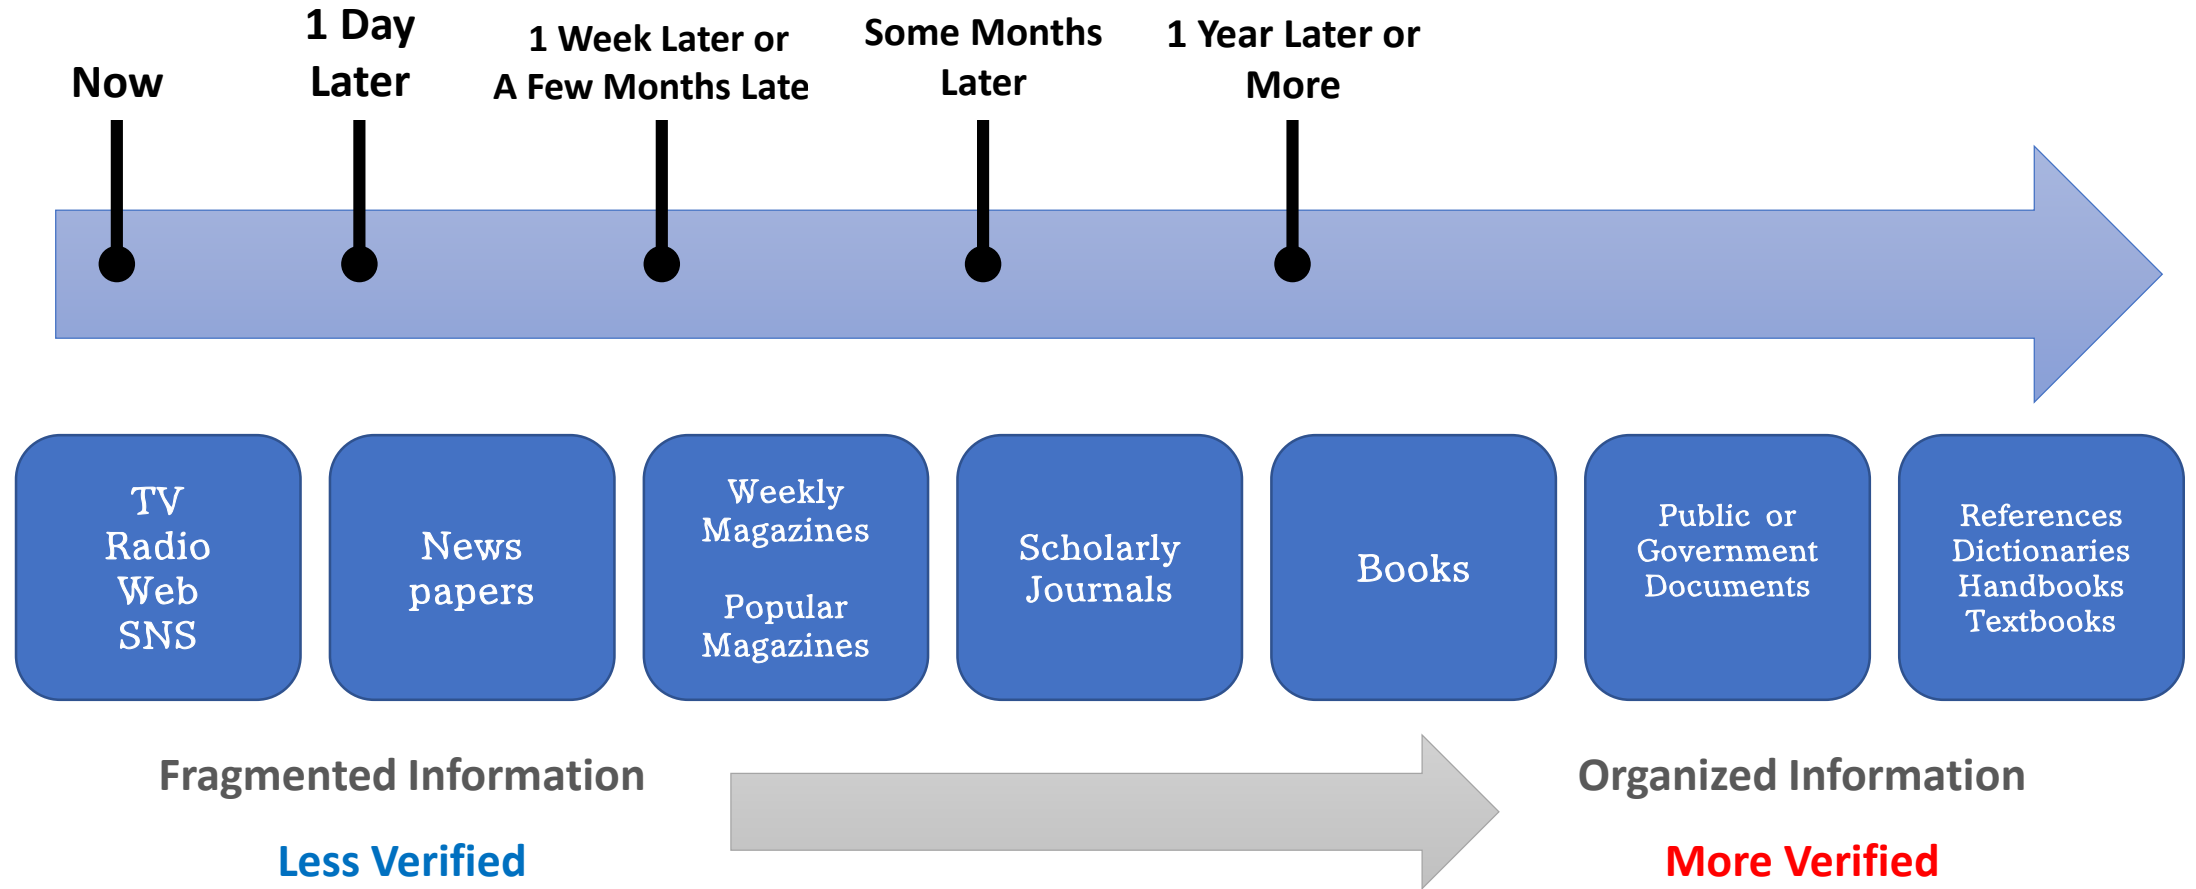

Search by author's name

Search Example 6 : Search contents written by Prof. Paul Krugman

- Open [Advanced Search] ⇒ Enter Krugman, Paul
⇒ Change the dropdown menu to [Author - AU]
- Names are entered in Surname, First Name order in academic database

The screenshot shows the ProQuest Advanced Search interface. The top navigation bar includes the ProQuest logo, the text 'Access provided by PQCS Internal - ProQuest Associate My Research Acc', and icons for a clock, folder, user, and help. Below the navigation bar, the 'Advanced Search' tab is selected and highlighted with a red box. The search input field contains 'Krugman, Paul' and is also highlighted with a red box. The dropdown menu for the search field is set to 'Author - AU' and is highlighted with a red box. A red arrow points from the text 'Change the dropdown menu to [Author - AU]' in the instructions to this dropdown menu. Below the search field, there is a 'Look up Authors' link. The interface also shows options for 'AND' search, 'Add a row', and 'Limit to: Full text' and 'Peer reviewed'.

Keyword Search vs. Subject Search

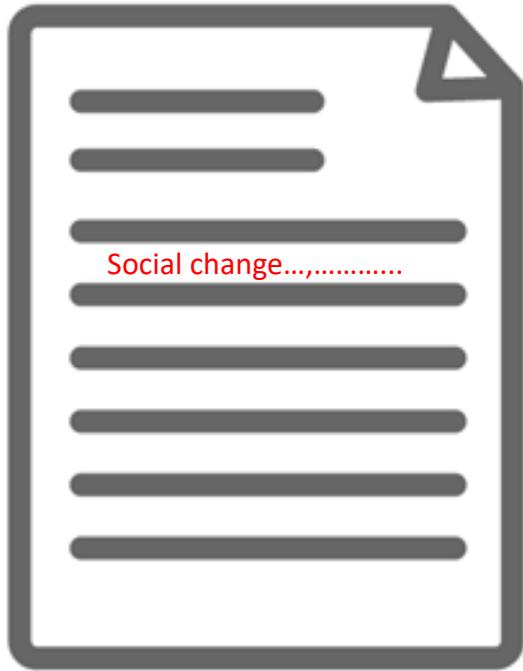

Search Example 7 : Compare the results between the keyword search and subject search with a keyword Social Change

- For Subject Search, open [Advanced Search] from the menu on your left ⇒ Enter “social change” ⇒ Change the dropdown menu to [All subjects & indexing]

The screenshot shows the ProQuest Advanced Search interface. The top navigation bar includes the ProQuest logo, the text 'Access provided by PQCS Internal - ProQuest Associate My Research Acc', and icons for a clock, folder, user, and help. Below the navigation bar, the 'Advanced Search' tab is selected, with other tabs like 'Basic Search', 'Publications', 'Browse', and 'Change Databases (275)' visible. The 'Advanced Search' section has sub-tabs: 'Command Line', 'Thesaurus', 'Field codes', and 'Search tips'. The main search area contains two input fields. The first field contains the text '"social change"' and is highlighted with a red box. To its right is a dropdown menu labeled 'in' with the selected option 'All subjects & indexing - SU°', also highlighted with a red box. A red arrow points from the text 'Change the dropdown menu to [All subjects & indexing]' in the list above to this dropdown menu. Below the first field is a second field with a dropdown menu labeled 'AND' and a 'Limit to:' section with checkboxes for 'Full text' and 'Peer reviewed'. At the bottom left, the ProQuest logo and 'Part of Clarivate' are displayed.

Keyword Search vs. Subject Search

Keyword Search

The content actually has the keyword(s) in its texts. However, its main theme may be about different topics.

Subject Search

The content may not state the keyword anywhere in the texts. However, its main theme is about the keyword and therefore the content is strongly relevant.

Thesaurus for finding similar & related subject terms

Search Example 8 : Search for the similar terms & related terms of a subject term 'Product Development'

- Open [Advanced Search] and click [Thesaurus]
- Search within [ProQuest thesaurus (subjects)]

The screenshot shows the ProQuest Advanced Search interface. The 'Thesaurus' tab is highlighted with a red box. A large blue arrow points from this tab to a 'Thesaurus List' panel on the right. The 'Thesaurus List' panel contains a list of available thesauri, with 'ProQuest Thesaurus' highlighted by a red box. The list includes:

- ERIC Thesaurus
- Linguistics and Language Behavior Abstracts Thesaurus
- MeSH 2020 Thesaurus
- ProQuest Thesaurus
- PTSDpubs Thesaurus
- Sociological Thesaurus

✖ Many databases included on ProQuest Platform have different versions of Thesaurus. Therefore, # of displayed Thesaurus can vary at your institution.

Proximity Search with NEAR & PRE operators

Example 9 : Search for the articles that include both ‘innovation’ and ‘productivity growth’ in the proximity of 5 words.

- A NEAR/# B (‘#’ is for the number of words between A & B)
- Search Entry: “productivity growth” NEAR/5 innovation
 - The keyword ‘productivity growth’ can be found within 5 words either before or after ‘innovation’.
 - ‘NEAR’ has to be entered in CAPITAL LETTERS.
 - A PRE/# B ⇒ Keyword A always appears # words BEFORE Keyword B

Find a specific title of journals, newspapers etc.

Search Example 10 : Find the latest issue of The Economist

- Click [Publications] tab to search the title in [Publication Search] page.

The screenshot shows the ProQuest Publication Search interface. The search term 'the economist' is entered in the search box, and the results are filtered to 'Magazines'. Four publications are listed. The second result, 'The Economist, London', is highlighted with a red box. This result shows full text coverage from Jan 4, 1992 to present, citation/abstract coverage from Jan 4, 1986 to present, and is published by The Economist Intelligence Unit N.A., Incorporated in London.

Publication	Full text coverage	Citation/Abstract coverage	Publisher	Place of publication

You can search with keywords within the selected title from the search box.
